

USA TODAY TRAVEL
EXPERIENCE FOOD AND WINE

Dine with over-the-top holiday décor

by Eric Grossman, Special for USA TODAY | Published on December 17, 2015

<http://experience.usatoday.com/food-and-wine/story/best-of-food-and-wine/2015/12/17/restaurants-best-holiday-decorations/77507278/>

While there's nothing quite like a festive holiday gathering at home, there are thousands of dining destinations that pull out all the stops come holiday time, filling every nook and cranny with colorful decorations and twinkling lights. This holiday season, take a break from entertaining at home and let the professionals do all the work. Get into the holiday spirit while enjoying a meal at one of these festive options for holiday dining, from a cozy New England farmhouse to a table inside of a gingerbread house or a festive Beverly Hills spot. Browse the gallery above for the best dining destinations with holiday decorations across the country.

Can't get enough after dinner with lights and tinsel? Check out these massive gingerbread houses for dessert.

For a masculine holiday environment, check out The Big 4 Restaurant at San Francisco's The Scarlet Huntington Hotel. Festooned with classy decorations, the restaurant pays homage to the city's storied past and the four railroad tycoons of San Francisco who once lived in the hotel's Nob Hill neighborhood. - Ron Henggeler